TERMS OF DAILY DEMOCRAT TO THE COUNTRY.

Lincoln's Soldiers.

This is the low-flung clap-trap of Seces sion organs. So men mustered under stars and stripes have been Polk's soldiers, Buchanan's soldiers, &c. There is a natural instinct toward royalty in this Disunion party. The usurper, Jeff. Davis, who is, by the grace of God, sovereign over the Southern Confederacy, is the owner of the men and the property of his subjects. Ali government, in Secession noggins, is concentrated in the Executive. They fled from the United States because, according to their notions, Lincoln was the Government. It was Lincoln's Government, Lincoln's army, Lincoln's-it's all Lincoln's. We admire how two Senators and one Representative from this State, considering everything Lincoln's, still go to Washington and clutch at Lincoln's gold. Secession editors long held on pap, and postmasters still grab Lincola's gold and curse Lincola.

This idea that the President is the Government, is the ruling one with all Seces sion. Their conceptions can't rise any higher. When they found, at Charleston, that they couldn't get the Government, they deserted, and got the people to make one, and inaugurate them as its rulers and owners. They have succeeded. Jeff. Davis & Co. own the Southern Confederacy, and can dispose of it at their discretion-people, property and all. These men were devoted to the Union as long as they could own it; but the moment it was out of grasp of their vaulting ambition, it was a despotism. They froth and rave before the people, as if the people had any interest in sustaining them; as if the people were too stupid to see that it is the old quarrel that the outs always have with the ins, grown into anarchy and blood-all to be sustained for the sake of men that want power and pelf. They may cry Lincoln's troops, and make mouths at their betters-native-born Kentuckians; but the people of Kentucky are about as little likely to be humbugged with names as any people in the world. The Secessionists can entertain themselves with making ugly mouths and calling unpopular names, to their heart's content. These expedients are the usual resort of the demagogue, who has just craft enough for such expedients. The present contest is rather serious to be affected by such expedients. This Union belongs to Kentucky; she has part interest in it; it is her inheritance; and the troops are her's, not Lin coln's. If the Secessionists want to leave it, let them be off as far South as they please; but Kentucky stays where she is.

An Irishman who had fallen from a second story window was badly hurt. A friend was condoling with him on the misfortune of falling so far. "Faith," said Pat, "the fall didn't burt me at all, at all; it was the stopping at the ground that hurt." It is just so with this irrepressible party. War, war, they cry; we can't have peace. As long as outrages on their part could go on; as long as Kentucky's property could be seized at discretion by Tennessee; as long as her sabble of a camp could make raids into this State and take arms and men; as long as peaceable citizens of Kentucky can be driven from their home and property; as long, in short, as Kentucky law can be trampled under foot, and their higher law substituted for it, all's well; it is just the been guilty of a score of acts of war upon not been able to invent a plausible lie to the trust not, require an armed force. contrary. as easily as possible; but the law must be obeyed, and the voice of this State respected; and it would be better done peaceably. The Secessionists have it all in their own hands. All they have to do is to obey the law. We think there is virtue enough in Kentucky to enforce obedience to law.

The alien law of the Confederate States is one of the most despetic ever enacted. The banishment of the Tyrolese by Austria, and of the Moors from Spain. was not more despotic than this act of the Confederates against all who do not proclaim their loyalty to the usurpation. The people of this country are going through the fire. These are war measures, and will last as long as the danger lasts. The President is armed with despotic power over aliens, and he can consider any one an alien who questions his infallibility. If the country would come out purified, it would be tolerated; but, alas! this is but the old story. In the same way liberty has passed away from those who have gone before us. These are not mere remedies for a disease; they are only the beginning of a new normal condition. The reign of despotism will not end. We have passed the artificial state of freedom, and are falling into the common natural condition of slavery to kings. This is the end of Secession.

A correspondent, who signs his communication "Union and Peace," after complimenting our paper as "the wisest and most just," puts a question that must engage the mind of every reflecting citizen. He says that a feeling seems to pervade the community that "we are on the verge of civil war, and yet both parties, holding as they do, are perfectly agreed upon one point. Each declares, positively, that it is for the neutrality of Kentucky, and is intent on the preservation of public peace," and then he asks if each is equally insincere, and as is charged, is seeking to bring about what they pretend to disclaim. It is to be lamented that intemporate action and vituperation by each side, tend to divide, rather than unite, the people in Kentucky, when all should be a unit. We believe that a great majority of the people are for peace, and dissensions only arise as to the means by which it is to be secured. The new fangled peace party, however, seems to us to tend wholely and solely to prevent what they pretend to seek. Their threats of violence, and the accompanying acts of violence, estrange from them all who really want peace. They are willing to accept peace only on their own terms. No compromise appears to be satisfactory.

To secure peace, the means, the basis for such action should be declared. The peace party require the Union men to lay down their arms, to break up their camps, to cease to receive arms from the only place where they could be obtained-in short, to give up everything that would render that peace secure. On the other hand, they insist that the State Guard. whose violent secession proclivities are so

The question arises, would it be right to arm one and not the other? Would it be right to arm both, when they may be brough into hostile collision? or would it be safe to the State to disarm both, and leave our border unprotected with 15,000 Tenneesee. ans, armed and equipped, to penetrate into the State, seize our town, lay waste our fields, and sack our cities?

This last would most assured!y be follyor rather crime. The arms of Kentucky have already been seized in the southern part of the State. Every day brings intelligence of some new aggression. But yesterday we were teld of a citizen, Mr. Hoblitzel, who was kidnapped at Elizabethtown, and neutrality they want. The blockade, in fact, works evil and not good. An honest planter, who really wishes supplies for his negroes, cannot go through the necessary amount of swearing; but a speculator, with a conscience that could not be spoken of without violating good manners, ships, trades, speculates, swears, and lies until the air is blue with oaths, and sends goods South. Floyd's command had moved from Lewisburg in the direction of Summersville and Gauley river, where a considerable force of the enemy was reported to be posted. Wise had probably joined Floyd by this time. Lee's headquarters were at Huntersville, a considerable portion of his forces having been moved in the direction of the Cheat Mountains, where an important position at High Knob had been invested in anticipation of the enemy. It was expected that the combined movements would result in driving back the enemy, or in surrounding him in such manner as to force him to capitulation.

A skirmish had taken place last Thursday on the Summersville road between Floyd's outposts and those of the enemy, killing four and making six prisoners.

On last Wednesday a detachment of the Rockbridge Cavalry captured a mail of the enemy, and made prisoners of a captain, sergeant and private, who were in charge of The prisoners were brought into Rich. mond on Saturday. REPORT OF FRED. BY STEELF, CAPTAIN SECOND

CAMP NEAR ROLLA, Mo., Aug. 17, '61. CAPTAIN: I have the honor to submit the following report of the operations of my battalion, at the battle near Springfield, Mo., on the 10th inst. The battalion was composed of companies B and E, 2d infantry, commanded by First Sergeants Griffin and G. H. McLaughlin, a company of general service recruits, commanded by Lance Sergeant Morine. During the early part of the action the battalion was in position to support DuBois' battery, but had no opportunity of engaging the enemy, except assist in dispersing a large body of cavalry that frequently threatened our rear.

Soon after the fall of General Lyon, Capt. C. C. Gilbert, First Infantry, joined my battalion with a part of his company, and we made arrangements to repel a threatened assault on the battery in front, which was repelled without our becoming engaged with the enemy. Major Sturgis then ordered me to form line of battle and advance upon the enemy's front, whence the heaviest firing had proceeded during the day. We very soon came within range of the enemy's rifles, when a fierce contest ensued, the enemy gradually retiring upon his reserve, where he made a stand, from which our small force was unable to drive him. After a heavy firing on both sides in this position, without any apparent advantage on either side, the contest ceased for a short time, as mutual consent.

We were opposed to vastly superior numbers, and many of our men were killed and wounded, so that I did not deem it discreet o charge upon the enemy without support, although Captain Gilbert suggested it.

During this suspension of hostilities received orders from Major Sturgis to send a company of skirmishers on the brow of the hill to our left and front. Lieutenant Lothrop went in command of this company, but was met with such a galling fire the enemy that he was compelled to retire; all of which service he performed with coolness and intrepidity. Lieut. Lothrop's retreat was followed up by a vigorous attack from the enemy upon us as well as upon Totten's battery, on our left and reer. The enemy had a field piece established under the crest of the hill to our left and front, which threw grape with spitefulness—and occasionally a shell—with more moral effect than damage to us.

This piece was now reinforced by one or two pieces of like character, all of which threw an incessant shower of missiles at us; but my men were ordered to stoop, and very few took effect on us. It was now evident that the enemy intended to take Totten's battery, as a strong column of infantry was advancing upon it. Totten mowed them down with canister in front, and our infantry poured a murderous fire into their flanks, which compelled them to beat a hasty retreat. The enemy had failed in all his endeavors to dislodge us from our position, which I conceived to be the strategic point of the battle field, and was determined to hold it at all hazards.

Another short suspension of hostilities ensued. After a consultation with the officers, Major Sturgis sent me orders to retire! Just at that time Captain Granger came up to me, and we discovered that the enemy were about to renew the attack upon uscollected several hundred volunteers of different regiments, while we held the enemy in check, and formed them on our left. We then advanced upon the enemy and dreve them off the field, and never saw one of them afterwards. After collecting our command we retired slowly from the field.

I commanded the rear guard on the retreat towards Springfield, but saw nothing of the enemy. It was evident that he had

Stephen Girard's Theory of Adver-

The example and precept of one of the most successful business men America has seen, may be worthy of attention at the present time. Mr. Girard wrote: "I have always considered advertising, liberally and long, to be a great success in business, and prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule, too, to advertise in the dullest time, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out; as, by keeping my business before the people, it has secured me many sales that I of Jefferson, and Henry D. McHenry, are would otherwise have lost."

THE HOME GUARD.-We have never witnessed a militany display of equal billiancy or magnitude to that presented yesterday by the Home Guard, under command of Brigadier General George P. Jouett, a gentleman of extensive military knowledge and thoroughly qualified for the position, supported by Lieut. Colonels W. P. Boon and W. P. Campbell. There were twenty-two companies out, numbering about fifteem hundred men. Quite a number of the members did not turn out on account of not having guns and uniforms. They formed on Broadway, east of Third street; marched down Broadway to Eighth, down Eighth to Chestnut, up Chestnut to Preston, down Preston to Jefferson, down Jefferson to First, down First to Main, down Main to Ninth, up Ninth to Jefferson, up Jefferson to the courthouse. During the whole time of march flags and handkerchiefs were waved, attesting the devotion of the citizens of Louisville to the Union. The streets were crowded to a perfect jam. The ladies turned out by thousands. The housetops and windows were crowded with the beauty and fashion of the city, waving the red, white, and blue, and cheering the soldiers with their pleasant smiles and beautiful countenances, and shouts for the stars and stripes and the preservation of the Union.

The Semple Battery, Capt. J. B. Watkins, an artillery company just organized, was out in full force, and composed of men who will ever prove true to the Union.

LETTER FROM FRANKFORT.

FRANKFORT, August 31, 1861. IESSRS. HARNEY, HUGHES & Co.:

Gentlemen: There are as yet but few members here; scarcely as many of them as there are of those self-sacrificing gentlemen who, for the sake of saving their State, and of contributing their mite for the prosperity St. Louis Night Express (daily)... of their beloved Commonwealth, are willing to take some small office with large pecuniary returns. They appear-and I can speak for one certainly-as if they would be willing to do almost nothing for the sake of a little impecuniosity.

There are, as far as I can understand, about thirty members here and seventy odd applicants for crumbs.

There is considerable discussion among the members as to who shall be the Speaker, both of the House and of the Senate.

The names of Rudd, LaRue, Pennebaker, mentioned in connection with the Presidency of the Senate, while knowing ones seem to hint that the name has not yet been mentioned. It is the opinion of some that these knowing ones allude to Judge Robinson. But I scarcely know how that will be, as the contest for Speaker of the Lower House seems to be between John B. Huston and R. A. Buckner, who are from the same part of the State. However, it is impossible, in speaking of these positions and the chances of the several gentlemen whose names are mentioned in connection with them, to do more than surmise. When the rest of the members arrive, the whole aspect of affairs may be changed.

There has been some considerable excitement here in reference to the killing of that man near Cynthiana by a party of lawless and unscrupulous men. This, together with the arrest and unwarrantel attack on Hoblitzel, has aroused a furor in the minds of those who think the laws should be executed and enforced with

There is a bugabo story going the rounds that is causing some nervous men in this neighborhood to tremble in their knees, and feel frightened about their previous lives, and that is that Owen county, together with what men she can raise, intends to make a foray into this, take the Union members prisoners, and kill everybody that don't cry halleluja!

Whether it is the county itself that is going to perform these wonders or the people thereof I have not yet learned. This is unquestionably too absurd to even dream of. And it is the opinion of some that it is Madden sued out a warrant against Samuel the sharp trick of an applicant to frighten Woolsey, for assault and battery; own bond some timid office-seeker off; if so, let the perpetrator receive my-blessing.

THESE Bitters are universally acknowledged to be a ure preventative and cure for Fever and Ague, Flatu lence. Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like afection. Their effect upon the system is most miraculous; they give a healthy tone to the system, remove all morbid matter, and in fact thoroughly cleanse the system of all impurities. The propriotors, in presenting this preparation to the public, assure them that in no single case, when it has been used according to their directions, has it been known to fail, but on the contrary, new virtues have been found in its use. To those afflicted with any of the above ills of the body, the "Bitters" are offered as a speedy and certain cure. Try

WITHOUT THE USE OF MEDICINE! THE ABOVE DISEASES, THE ABOVE DISEASES, and those of a similar na uure, yield most readily to the powerful reaction produced in the system by these Baths, while it escapes the remiclous effects of drugs. Persons who have used internal medicines until the orzanism is no longer susceptible of its influence, without apparent benefit, are rendered perfectly sound and well in thirty or forty days, with but little interruption to their regular pursuits. In SECONDARY SYPHILLS, where the throat is ulcerated and the body covered with sores, the ulcers clearing and heal in a tew days, and in a short time every symptom of the disease has lurked in the blood for years—felt but not seem—a few weeks suffice to effect a complete cure. We would particularly call the attention of sufferers from Rheemarism of every description to the fact that the disease yields like magic to these Baths.

These officied with the above, or any other diseases, are respectfully invited to consuit us, free of charge, ether personally or beletter, and no case will be taken under treatment unless we are satisfied it may be cured, or at least greatly relieved.

The London Times says the division of this country will relieve Great Britain from many of the troubles by which she was menaced in the overbearing policy of the .. Troy Federal Government. That is speaking out of the fullness of the heart. England will be relieved, and she greatly desires peace. Of course she does; for peace now brings what she wants-disunion. She wants her fears relieved. This country was getting too savey.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, August 31, 1861—sel de.

Telegraphic News.

WASHINGTON, August 30 -Times' Corresndence -This morning the rebels made a demonstration in force, with three pieces of artillery, against our pickets stationed at Fall's cross roads. After retiring a short distance, our troops returned the fire, and finally compelled the enemy to retire, when they resumed the possession of their former position.

One private of the Michigan regiment was slightly wounded.

Military authorities think the present movements of the rebels have no signifi cance except to keep their men actively employed to prevent the demoralization and dissolution of their army, until they are prepared for a good movement, or one is made against them. Captain Whipple, one of the Engineers who accompanied Mr. Lowe on his cerial reconnoisance yesterday, says they observed nearly 1,000 men at work, throwing up entrenchments on Mansan's hill, between Falls' Church and Fairfax, a distance of seven miles.

They concluded the enemy must be in

The State Department will not issue passes to any body to pass from loyal into rebel States. Since the passage through was stopped, the demand for passes has been very large. Most of the applicants are women who have been living at the North.

Hallswell Miss Lizzle I Hampton Sallv Hunt Mrs Sopha L Howard Clara Hinkle Mrs Nancy The general order issued by Adjutant General Thomas, calling attention to the 57th article of the act called "for the government of the armies of the United States," has a more sweeping application than is generally supposed. It is intended to apply to all persons, both in and out of the army, and to newspapers here and else-where throughout the North. Under it, it is intended to prohibit the publication of movements connected with the raising of troops, the preparation of munitions of war, the transportation of men, and the fitting out of vessels.

Mr. Bates left Washington this morning, for St. Louis. In his absence, Titian L. Coffy has been commissioned as Attorney General.

New York World's Correspondence .- A number of leading financiers, including the Presidents of some of the New York banks, are now in the city urging upon the President oertain changes in the conduct of the war. They propose that the Government shall attempt to force the rebels to abandon their threatened attack upon Washington by making counter attacks upon various points in the South.

does not depend upon bank corporations, but that the people alone are able and willing to subscribe all the money that is injured.

She fired twenty-three shots at the United State frigate Savannah. No person was injured. needed. It will satisfy the public and increase public confidence in the Governdecided that the loan is not taxable either by State or local authorities.

Senator Wade, of Ohio, before leaving Washington, was authorized by the Govern-battery of artillery for the war.

A special to the N. Y. Tribune says: A A special to the N. Y. Tribune says: A letter from St. Louis states that there is no doubt that the rebels intended and expected springfield report that a skirmish had to be in full possession of St. Louis before now, and that August 20th was the time fixed upon for the active co-operation of the Secessionists in that city. Nothing could have prevented the plot from succeeding if they had been victorious at Springfield. Gen. Lyon, knowing this, sacrificed himself, have gained time, and are safe. Advices received at the War Department year withheld their annual presents on ac acy. The principal rendezvous of the tribes is near Fort Bent. Special to the New York Herald - It is estimated by men entitled to know, that there are 75,000 of the rebel army between Harper's Ferry and Edward's Ferry, awaiting an opportunity to force a crossing into Maryland, and are willing to take the chances then of an insurrection of the malcontents that will enable them to transfer the conflict to that State, and place Washington between two rebel armies. In the meantime, hundreds of Maryland Secessionists are gathering upon the Eastern shore, for the purpose of carrying out the programme of cutting off direct communication between Philadelphia and Baltimore, simultaneously with the passage of the reb els across the Potomac. At the little town of Easton, in Talbott county, these arrivals have amounted to as nany as 50 per day.

The rebels are in such a condition that they are compelled to either attempt to advance or to retire from the Potomac. The resources of this region are exhausted, and they cannot much longer subsist their immense force on the Virginia side of the Potomac. They must either avail themselves of the riches of the splendid agricultural district of Western Maryland, or fall back at least upon the Rappahannock. Their disposition will make lively times along the Potomac in a few days, or perhaps in a few hours.

ST. Louis, August 31 .- The following proclamation was issued this morning:

HEADQUARTERS WESTERN DEPARTMENT,) St. Louie, Mo., Aug. 30, 1861. Circumstances in my judgment of sufficient urgency render it necessary that the Commanding General of this Department should assume the administrative powers of the State.

Its disorganized condition, the helplessness of the civil authority, and the devastation of property, by bands of murderers and marauders who infect nearly every county in the State, and evail themselves of the public misfortunes and the vicinity of a hostile force, to gratify private and neighborhood vengeance, and who find an enemy wherever they find plunder, finally demand the severest measures to repress the daily increasing crimes and outrages which are driving off the inhabitants and ruining the

In this condition the public safety and the success of our arms require unity of purpose without let or hindrance, to the prompt administration of affairs. In order therefore to suppress disorder, to maintain as far as practicable the public peace, and to give security and protection to Notice to Street Pavers.

THE BALD & GRAY

MANY, SINCE THE GREAT DISCOVERY OF Prof. Wood, have attempted not only to initiate his Bestorative, but profess to have discovered something that would produce results identical; but they have all come and gone, being carried away by the wonderful results of Prof. Wood's preparation, and have been forced to leave the field to its resistless sway.

BATH, Maine, April 18, 1859

PROV. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: The letter I wrote you in 1856, concerning your valuable Hair Restorative, and which you have published in this vicinity and elsewhere, has given rise to numerous laculities touching the facts in the case. The inquiries are, first, is it a fact of any habitation and name, as stated in the communication; second, is it true of all theref- contained; third, does my hart still continue to be in good order and of natural color? To all I can and d'answer invariably yes. My hair is even better than in any stage of my life for & years past—more soft, thrifty, and better colored; whiskers, the same result will follow as the hair. I have been in the receipt of a great number of letters from all parts of New England, asking me if my hair still continues to be good; as there is so much frand in the manufacture and sale of various compounds, as well as this, it has, no doubt, been basely imitated and been used, not only without any good effect, but to absolute hingry. I have not used any of your Restorative of any account for some months, and yet any hair is as good as ever, and hundreds have examined it with surptise, as I am now 61 years old and not a gray hair in my head or on my face; and to prove this fact, I send you a lock of my hair taken off the past week. I received your favor of two quart bottles last summer. for which I amy very grateful. I gave it to my ffends and thereby middled them to try it; many were skeptical until after trial, and then burchased and used it with universal success. I will ask as a favor, that you send me a test by which I can discover fraud in the Restorative sold by many. I fear, without authority from you. A pure article will insure success, and I boile, ew where good effects do not follow, the failure is caused by the impure article, which ctress the inventor of the zood. deem it my duty, as heretofore, to keep you apprised of the continued effect on my hair, as I assure all who in quire of me of my unshaken opinion of its valuable results.

Freman, dear sir, yours, and the success, and in the restorative and the world the wonderful, as well as the unexpected, result have experienced from using one bother of your Hair Restorative. And example on the manufactures of hair, it was shally induced to try a bottle of your Hair Restorative. Now, andor and justice compete me to announce to wheever may read this, that I have experienced from using one to make known to the world the wonderful, as well as the unexpected, result I have experienced from using one bottle the necessity of the medium of his world and retails for one dollar per bottle; the mediums hold
